TOBACCO GROWERS ATTENTION.

Arrangements Completed For Pooling 1905 Crop--Conditions of It.

A BIG SAVING TO GROWERS.

It is with pleasure that your financial committee announces the completion of arrangements for the pooling of the 1905 crop of tobacco upon terms similar to last year with the exception that the Bank of Hardinsburg will make the money advances to the growers instead of the Louisville Warehouse Co.

The conditions upon which these advances are made are briefly as follows: The parties obtaining advances on their tobacco will be required to give the bank a lien on said tobacco, and in addition sign an agreement by which they become individually, jointly and severally responsible for the whole amount of money so advanced, including interest at the rate of 6 per cent payable annually; said advances to mature and be payable February 1, 1906, or sooner, if said tobacco should be sold. The advances will be as follows: On the A and C grades of leaf and lugs $1.00 per hundred pounds. On the D grade of leaf and lugs $1.50 per hundred pounds. On the H and O grades of leaf and lugs $1.00 per hundred pounds. On the trash $2.00 per hundred pounds. On all nonresidue there will be no advance.

In addition to the above, said bank advances $1 per hundred pounds to pay the rebalancing, redrying, pressing, classing and hoghead expenses, and also storage and insurance until the first of November 1906.

Gentlemen, we, your committee, congratulate ourselves upon being able to finance our business at home. The objectionable feature of having our tobacco tied up with the Louisville Warehouse Co. is now eliminated, and we hope it will meet the hearty approval of all. Now let us hasten the completion of our storage house for the county and have it ready for this tobacco in order to relieve our rebalancing houses when the pricing season comes.

Now, gentlemen, your committee wishes to call your attention to the saving to the growers under this contract. To store for a period of twelve months, and sell a hoghead of tobacco through the Louisville warehouse, costs as follows:

12 months storage.....	$3.20
Selling.....	1.50
Freight.....	1.50
Commission.....	1.00
Drayage.....	.50
Insurance.....	2.00
	$7.70

Now, under the present contract, the advance will be the only expense, and it will not exceed $3 per hoghead. Deducting $3 from $7.70 we have a saving of $4.70 per hoghead or $6,000 on one thousand hogheads.

Your committee further announces that Barney Squires will rebalance for the Equity people at the Alle D'Arnette house on the Stephensport road, John O'Reilly at Hardinsburg and E. F. Lyons & Bro. at McJudy, and said rebalances are now open to receive tobacco. We also hope to open the house at Kink in a few days, and also one at McDaniels.

Officially promulgated by G. S. Wilson, Chairman Finance Committee Breckenridge County American Society of Equity.

Rheumatism

Is one of the constitutional diseases. It manifests itself in local aches and pains,--inflamed joints and stiff muscles,--but it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires constitutional treatment acting through the blood, and the best is a course of the great medicine which has permanently cured thousands of cases.

For testimonials of remarkable cures see Book on Rheumatism, No. 7, C. L. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

NOTABLE LIFE CALMLY ENDED.

Mrs. Satterfield, One of Town's Oldest Women, Dies After Long Illness.

MOTHER OF 16 CHILDREN.

Mrs. T. F. Satterfield is dead. Born, July 14, 1827. Died, January 7, 1906. Age, seventy-eight years. Cause of death, senility.

A life well spent; a woman that has been a credit to Cloverport; a mother of sixteen children, was all swept into eternity Sunday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock by the gentle hand of Him who knows best. Without fear or doubt this notable life was ended.

Mrs. Satterfield was the wife of the late T. F. Satterfield, of this city, the mother of 16 children of her own and several orphans. Eight of her own children survive her. Laura, Charles, Loretta, Thomas, Luther, James Satterfield and Mrs. Viola Jackson and Mrs. Lizzie Jackson. Mrs. G. G. Wine, a daughter, and Allen, a son, are dead. She had been a confirmed invalid for five years.

Mrs. Satterfield was married at Pinceton, Ky., where she was teaching school, and the home of Mr. Satterfield. Soon after the marriage they came to Cloverport where both lived until death. Being a mother of a large family and possessing means, she entertained a great deal in anti-bellum days. The Satterfield home was always known to have the open door for old and young. During the Christmas holidays this old home echoed with merriment. While the civil war was raging, Mr. Satterfield bought the present homestead and moved his family there. Here, Mrs. Satterfield, during the rebellion sheltered many soldiers.

As a member of the Presbyterian church she made her presence felt for good. Joining this church soon after her arrival here, she remained a consistent worker in it until she became an invalid.

She was a sister to the late John Allen, of Princeton, and a niece of the late Col. D. R. Murray, of this city, the late Mrs. Dr. Sebastian, of this place.

The funeral services were held at her late home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The interment was in the Murray family grave yard.

Beckham County.

Another effort will be made by the legislature to cut off sections of two or three counties and organize a new one, so that they can name it Beckham county. Mr. Beckham's pet idea the same thing. The legislature of 1902, they tried it again in 1904 and succeeded in passing the bill through both houses. It is needless to say it was promptly signed and proclaimed to be a law, for the county was named Beckham, but when they re-run the lines as the same thing, they discovered that Beckham county crossed the river and took a long strip of the State of Ohio, and robbed an adjoining county of its county house. Thus the first county of Beckham died a-born. Now another effort will be made to perpetuate the memory of the loss by cutting a slice out of Ohio, Breckenridge and Grayson counties, and forming a new county that they may perpetuate the memory of the first Governor of Kentucky who used his pardoning and appointing power to increase his personal influence with corrupt politicians in order that he might defeat the will of the people and gratify his own ambition.--Mayfield Monitor.

Light Plant Destroyed.

Fire between two and three o'clock on New Year's morning completely destroyed the Cannon electric light plant which was located on the river front near the water works pumping station.

Mrs. Conrad Entertains.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Conrad had a party of friends to 6 o'clock dinner at their home in the west end Wednesday evening last. Games were indulged in after dinner. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Will Walker, of Cloverport, nephew of Mr. Conrad, was gone to London, Kan. where he will farm.

MRS. JO PORTER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

WAS RESCUED BY DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Jo Porter had a narrow escape at her home in the West End from a horrible death last week. While attempting to place a lamp upon a table Mrs. Porter let it fall, the lamp burst and flew into a mass of flames, catching Mrs. Porter's apron afire and endangering the entire house. Had it not been that her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Mullen, who was in an adjoining room, heard the confusion and came to her mother's rescue, death would have been probable. Mrs. Mullen jerked the apron off her mother, and with the assistance of her father, Mr. Jo Porter, smothered out the fire.

Mrs. Porter is 64 years old and one of Cloverport's esteemed ladies.

Marshal Delavan

Investigating Robbers.

Marshal Delavan, of Cloverport, was in Owensboro Friday making investigations concerning the robbery of stores in Cloverport and Hawesville, thought to have been committed by Owensboro negroes. George Douglas was thought to have robbed Wilson's store at Hawesville, and a cloak was found in the possession of Mary Smith and identified by Wilson as one that had been taken from this store. It was taken to Hawesville, and the clerk in charge of the cloak department examined it and stated that it did not come from Wilson's store. But Frank Fraize, a Cloverport merchant, whose store was also robbed, positively identified the cloak as one that he had lost. It is believed that a gang of Owensboro negroes are making a regular business of visiting neighboring towns and breaking into stores.--Saturday's Owensboro Messenger.

"GOLDEN ROD" SHINES NO MORE.

Mrs. S. J. Cain Dies Suddenly--Correspondent of News for Many Years.

HER LIFE, A STAR OF HOPE.

It is my sad duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. Sallie Jolly Cain, (Golden Rod) which occurred at the home of her father, T. J. Jolly last Friday morning at about seven o'clock.

Her death was so sudden and a severe shock to the entire community which seemed appalled at the awful hand that so quickly and quietly took home to him, she, who had seemed so full of life, and health, and strength.

She had arisen in the early morning, and while waiting for the breakfast hour wrote a letter to her absent boy "Tom," with a smile and pleasant word for the members of her family. She sat at the breakfast table, and after drinking a cup of coffee, moved from her place at the table to the stove and picked up a house hold pet, and seemed in an unusually fine spirit. When suddenly, without even a groan, she fell from her chair and when the family reached her, she had peacefully, without even a struggle, fallen asleep in the arms of Jesus, and while everything possible to restore life was done it was of no avail, and only the lifeless body remained to the agonized family.

Mrs. Cain was the eldest child of Thos. J. and Amanda Lee Jolly. She was born, March 20, 1854, and was married to W. H. Cain, Jr., in the fall of 1872. To this union six children were born, five of whom are living while one little baby in infancy passed over to await the coming of the precious mother on this sad day of the New Year. These five children, Florence, Robert, Jolly, (called Roy) Dr. Will Thomas, Beverly and Hubert together with the husband are left to mourn her loss, and to bless and cherish her memory.

In the sacred circle where she presided as wife and mother the beauties of a consecrated life shown forth, and the legacy of this faithful life is more precious to them than silver or gold. In her church, to which she was a loyal member, since her conversion at the age of twelve years; in the Sunday school; in the missionary Society; her death has left a sad vacancy which time alone will fill.

Bro. D. S. Campbell came from Russellville to preach her funeral sermon. Bro. W. H. Roe, her pastor, assisting. Services were conducted at her father's house at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A large crowd of sorrowing friends followed her to her last resting place in the Blainfield burial ground, where she was quietly laid to rest to await the morning of the resurrection, when we will understand what seems at this dark hour a cruel and sudden blow. All we can do is to live so that we may meet her in a better world than this, for we believe she is with the angels now, and it is her gain and happiness to be with the Saviour she loved and served so faithfully here. Earth is brighter because she has been here, and heaven is nearer, because she has gone there.

Cloverporters started the New Year right last Sabbath. Large congregations were had at all the churches, and the day was spent in quietness. Services were held at the Catholic church and a good discourse was delivered by Father Celestial Brey.

26-YEAR-OLD JUDGE HENRY

FILLING CAMPAIGN PROMISES.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Jan. 9--(Special.)--Judge Henry DeH. Moorman heard his first case Saturday. He presided with dignity. The case concerned a colored girl who was charged with horse-stealing. In default of bail she was sent to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The case of Breckenridge Bank vs. Smart and Company, was argued by the Court of Appeals last week. This is a victory for the Bank, and ends the litigation which has been long drawn out.

"Watches" on Board Ship.

On board all ships a series of "watches" are established, so that work is shared equally among the sailors. To aid this object also the crews are divided into two divisions, starboard and port. A ship's day commences at noon, and there are seven watches. The watch which is on duty in the forenoon one day has the afternoon next day, and the men who have four hours' rest one night have eight hours the next. This is the reason for having "watches," which are made by dividing the hours between 4 p. m. and 8 p. m. into two.

Financial Panic Predicted.

New York, Jan. 4--Unless there is currency reform, a panic beside which former panics will seem insignificant, was predicted by Jacob H. Schiff, head of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in a speech before the New York Chamber of Commerce today. Mr. Schiff said he did not regard such a panic as imminent, but believed it will come unless something is done to remedy the lack of elasticity of the present currency system. He declared that he did not favor the plan proposed by secretary of the Treasury Shaw for relief of the situation, it being his opinion that the Secretary's plan would aid speculation rather than legitimate business. Mr. Schiff favored a currency based on commercial paper as more helpful to the general business interests of the country.

THOUGHTS.

It's not alone the forming resolutions that makes the year's first day—it's the retrospect of the twelve months gone that counts more than all. Are we any better. Have we performed the good deeds that we promised ourselves, have we conquered any habits which threatened our well being, have we grown honest with our business associates, more liberal with those not so well conditioned as ourselves? We "march forth unto the things which are before," but shall we "forget those things which are behind?"—Amiel.

Be careful now—don't burn your shoes.

Judge Henry Moorman is now judging.

Hardinsburg has a "Fireclub Club."

President Roosevelt will soon be a father-in-law.

Man is the most certain animal on earth—at meal time.

What do you think of Russell Sage at ninety and making $75,000 a day?

Emerson says the one prudence in life is concentration, the one evil is dissipation.

The only thing in this country that gets away with the Standard Oil Co. is the bad roads.

Hardinsburg is to have a lycium course, "Sweet Lavender," however, has not been killed yet.

Kentucky Republicans have some consolation in the fact that the new senator is from a Republican county.

The American Society of Equity in this county has decided to pool the tobacco crop raised last year. A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

Our Patesville correspondents wishes us a bright, happy and prosperous New Year. We will try to be bright and happy—but the prosperous part—we well can't say about that.

A girl in Hancock county asked Santa Claus for an automobile and got it. That's nothing. We know a Cloverport boy who asked Santa for one three times a day for a month and didn't get it.

Our Raymond correspondent says:

"The pound party at Sam Asters Saturday night was quite a success. Plenty to eat."

We suggest that Cloverporters have one for the benefit of Walter Oelze and Ira Behn.

Chauncey M. Depew says that he has no intention whatever of resigning his seat in the United States Senate. Mr. Depew is nearly seventy-two years old. He is a director in seventy-nine companies from which he intends to resign and then devote his entire time to his work in the Senate.

There are 844 banking institutions in New York State with resources of over $5,300,000,000, an amount equal to about 28 per cent of the entire banking power of the United States. The great bulk of these resources are concentrated in the city of New York, the larger part of them in Wall Street district.

"The Elizabethtown News has been changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly. The News has recognized that the people of the country are no longer content with the ways and they care little for a weekly paper."—Owensboro Inquirer.

From the list of men the Owensboro Inquirer has bankrupted in its attempt to maintain a place as a daily paper it is also very plain "that the people of the country are no longer content with the ways and care little" for a daily paper like the Inquirer.

"Golden Roll" is dead. A life that has made its world ring with good cheer and that has served the News as no other could do has suddenly, peacefully and fearlessly gone out. The death of Mrs. S. J. Cain grieves us. We are sad because of it and sorry with the loved ones that survive this notable, estimable woman. But to these loved ones we say be of good cheer and follow the example of this grand woman for she has crossed the river to that better land and is wearing the crown that awaited her there.

Our Senator the Hon. Richard W. Owen came in for his share of honors in the distribution of places on the various committees in the Senate. He gets Chairmanship of the Committee on Printing and is a member of the Committee on Claims, Classification of Cities and Towns, Immigration and Labor, Federal Relations, Penitentiaries, and House of Reform, Reapportionment of Legislative Districts, Sinking Fund, and Ways and Means.

The Hon. Ed. Shellman our Representative is well provided for also. He is Chairman of Committee on Appropriations and a member of the Committee on Charitable Institutions.

The Hon. A. J. Thompson, of Meade, is Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, and a member of the Committee on Charitable Institutions, Corporations, Appropriations and Military Affairs.

The Hon. Peter Best, Jr., of Hancock, gets a place on the Committee on Military Affairs.

During the year past the wage-people have got a nearer look at the salary-people, and they like the looks of the salaries. Hence we espouse the cause of bigger stipends in full expectation of a great wave of approving and supporting enthusiasm. Let every bank-president have all the salary he wants. Let our public officials fix their own price. Make a minimum of $10,000 for teachers professors and pastors. Editors, physicians, nurses, and other people who devote their lives to the suffering ought to have from $50,000 up—to this to make up for unrequited service in the past. For all ordinary labor ten dollars a day is as little as we ought to have the face to offer. Cook-ladies, wash-ladies and other household jewels should have a diamond a day.

In short in this good year of 1906 let money flow as water from the town-pump. If this is done the year will be without rancor and class-bitterness, for everybody will have all the money each pay-day that he can carry home.—Judge.

SIMON MAGUS.

The Legend From Which Was Born
The Story of Faust.

Almost every renowned man of antiquity in the middle ages was believed to be attended by a spirit familiar and not a few were supposed to have been in direct league with the devil. Probably the oldest legend of which the Faust legend is a continuous thread is that of Simon Magus, mentioned in the history of the apostles.

According to destiny, he was a native of Gilton, a village in Samaria. He was, no doubt, a man of great intellectual powers. He was the father of the school of the Gnostics. It is also reported of him that he could make himself invisible, that he could pass through flames unharmed, could transmute matter, make gold and exercise demonic power. He laid claim to all these powers, and his name lived in the mouths of the people as a sort of demagogue through many centuries until some other miracle working personality took his place at the popular fairs. Unusual accomplishments, great erudition, were attributed to the supernatural influence and the general disposition to superstitious association was strengthened on the one hand by dogmatic affirmation on the part of the church of the existence of a personal Satan, with his numerous legions, and, on the other hand, by incorporating the magic arts among the practical sciences, of which astrology and alchemy occupied no mean part.

THE ODD LITTLE GECKO.

A Queer Animal That Lives in Africa and Southern Europe.

The gecko is an odd little creature. His name is seldom heard, and his form is seldom seen, for he lives in Africa and the southern countries of Europe.

This little gecko has so many strange ways and there is something so comical in his appearance that the people of the countries where he lives are rather afraid of him, believing his life to be poisonous, although this is denied by naturalists.

He is a little creature, with a broad, flat-head, like a snake, and a long body, with a narrow tail, with odd shaped bits of skin arranged like wallops along the sides of it. He has short legs and queer, catlike claws, which enable him to easily climb the odd walls and rocks upon which he lives, catching the insects of various sorts which make his dinner.

He is a nocturnal animal, walking abroad at night and sleeping in the daytime. He moves with sudden rushes and without any noise whatever. His odd name was given him from the queer noise he makes, which is something like the noise you would make to start a horse with. The male gecko is of a gray color, so near the shade of the odd walls and rocks among which he makes his home that he can barely be seen.

Chinese Children.

The education of their children is a matter of no small interest to the affectionate Chinese mother. They watch the little one from the day he is born, to note superstitious signs. Let him cry lustily, and he will live long, say the old granmas. If he coughs or walks too soon he will grow up unlovable in disposition. At first the little Chinese are not very attractive objects, presenting rather a scowly appearance, due to the custom of not washing them lest they catch cold. A month after his birth the boy's head is shaved. A great feast is prepared and celebrated, the child now receiving his "milk name." When he enters school his name is changed, as it is once more when he receives his degree.—Pittman.

Salt, the Civilizer.

The use of salt as a necessary supplement to diet has had much influence in shaping the civilization and exploration of the world. It is most probable that the oldest trade routes were created for the salt trade, as salt and incense formed the chief necessities of the ancient days. This was certainly the case with the caravan routes in Libya and the Sahara, while the miles of large trails before the time of Alexander.

Another interesting fact is that salt has played a considerable part in the distribution of man. When it became absolutely necessary to him, as it did at an early stage of his development, he was forced to migrate to places where it could be obtained. This brought him to the seashore, where he gained his ideas of maritime commerce. Lastly, the preservative effects of salt on food made long oceanic voyages possible and thus opened up the world to commerce and civilization.

How Cowards Were Punished.

Many of the devices by which military indifference to life has been nurtured and sustained are curious. In ancient times the temples were closed to those who refused military service, who deserted their ranks or lost their bucklers, while a law constrained such offenders to sit for three days in the public forum dressed in the garments of women. Many a Spartan mother would stab her son who came back alive from a defeat, and such a man, if he escaped his mother, was disgraced not only from public office, but from marriage, exposed to the jeers of all who chose to strike him, compelled to dress in mean clothing and to wear his beard negligently trimmed. In the same way a horse soldier who fled or lost his shield or received a wound in any save the front part of the body was by law prevented from ever afterward appearing in public.

The First Electric Train.

The earliest public trial of a passenger train driven by an electric motor was that conducted by Professor J. A. B. in 1825. The trial was held in 1825, though for four years previously he had successfully experimented with electric traction in the privacy of his own grounds. The trial of J. A. B.'s vessel took place on the Nova and was witnessed by a vast crowd of people. The boat was twenty-eight feet long and ten feet wide and carried fourteen persons.

It was not until four years later that we find any record of a passenger carriage driven by electricity on land, and in this case the inventor was Alexander Davidson of Edinburgh. The carriage was sixteen feet long by seven feet wide and was propelled for a mile and a half at the rate of four miles an hour on the Edinburgh and Glasgow railway.

You get immediate relief from the treatment, and consistent use will prove to every sufferer, as it has to many of our customers, the virtue of this prescription.

Patton Brick Yard Scene of Much Activity.

Patton's brick yard is once more the scene of activity. The clamor of hammers, the blacksmith's fire, the buzz of the carpenter's saw make this old land mark ring with industry. The seven original kilns will be put in repair at once and used. The brick tunnel kiln which was recently built at a cost of upwards to $30,000 will be put in operation as soon as it is given a trial when the plant is in good running order. A new modern dry house will take the place of the old ones which have been torn away. Two new engines will be installed and an automatic engine. All of the buildings are being overhauled, a commissary will probably be run as before when the brick company was in charge. Twenty-five men are now on the payroll which amounts to $125 per week. Lack of material is causing much delay in the general overhauling of the plant but the management sure it will probably have the plant in full operation within sixty days. Inquiries are being received every day for brick and no trouble will be had in placing the output of 60,000 per day.

Former Hardinsburg Man Dies at Louisville.

Joseph Allen Boyd, a well-to-do retired business man of Owensboro, Ky., and formerly a resident of Louisville, died of arterio sclerosis yesterday afternoon at Beechhurst Sanitarium. Mr. Boyd had been suffering from the malady for six years, and because of his ill health he had retired from active business life five years ago. He had been confined to his home for three years. He was fifty-four years of age.

He was a native of Hardinsburg, Ky. He was a son of the late Robert L. Boyd, who was a partner in one of the firms of Boyd & Alexander, wholesale and retail dealers in gunware, which was located on Main street, between Seventh and Eighth. Mr. Boyd was a graduate of State College at Lexington.

Mr. Boyd, with his parents, moved to Louisville twenty-five years ago, and had lived in Louisville twelve years. For several years he had been a traveling man employed by Bamberger, Bloom & Co. He later went to Owensboro, Ky., and became identified with the firm of McCulloch and McCulloch & Co., J. W. McCulloch and M. V. March, distillers and wholesale whiskey dealers. For several years he was proprietor of the Planter's Hotel at Owensboro.

Mr. Boyd was brought to Louisville last August for treatment.

He is survived by two brothers, Mr. B. D. Boyd, of Owensboro, Ky., and Mr. Charles L. Boyd, of Texas; one sister, Miss Letitia Boyd, of Owensboro. Deceased was a nephew of the late Clint McClary, Sr.

Funeral services will be conducted at Francis's chapel, at Sixth and Chestnut streets. The burial will be in the family lot at Cave Hill cemetery and will be private.

The following are the pallbearers: Logan C. Murray, Clint M. Carr, Louis Seelbach, Dr. W. P. White and Spalding Coleman, at Louisville, and R. S. Hughes, of Owensboro.—Friday's Louisville Times.

Four Hundred Babies.
St. Vincent's Infant Asylum, Chicago, mothers' houses are waiting for four hundred babies. There are nearly six babies there, sister Julia writes: "I cannot say too much in praise of Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and meet upon every bottle the name of the famous and certain in results. Real safe substitutes—Soddy's A. R. Fisher."

Smallpox Near Chambers.
The cases of smallpox have developed at Chambers, this county. Young Sam Steele was first afflicted, having caught it at Owensboro. He is now at home of Howell Brown, Mr. Brown next fell a victim. The cases are of a light form. Other of the neighbors are reported to be similarly afflicted but we cannot vouch for the truth of it.—Hancock Clarion.

County Salaries Raised.
The Hancock fiscal court was in session here Tuesday and Friday of last week, attending to the settling of claims and other matters before the board went out of office the first of the year. Salaries of the following county officers were raised: School superintendent from $457 to $450; county judge, $550 to $600; county attorney, $350 to $400.—Hancock Clarion.

Caught at Havesville.
Geo. Deagle is held in Havesville on the charge of robbing Wilson's store at that place. If the charge is not proven there, local authorities want him here for trial, he being a suspect in the robbing of F. Fraze's store in this city some time ago.

James Best Case Heard.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., Jan. 4.—The jury in the case against James Best, now being tried in the Circuit Court here on a charge of conspiring to murder James H. Voss, was unable to complete this morning when the second venire of men from Woodford county appeared in court, and the hearing of evidence was begun, after Commonwealth's Attorney Charles H. Sanford had made a striking statement of the case, with the difficulty surrounding it, and the testimony which would be produced. In his opening statement in the attorney paid a high tribute to the life and character of the dead man.

Greatly Demanded.

Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for blood and system cleanser, such as Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are just what you need to cure constipation and liver troubles. Try them. At Short and Hynes' drug store, price 25c, guaranteed.

Wed at Noon.

Washington, Jan. 4.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt have announced the wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Representative Longworth, of Cincinnati, to take place Saturday, February 17, at 12 o'clock noon, in the east room of the White House.

Drugged to death.

A miserable invalid suffering from disordered female functions, monthly pains, nervousness, falling feelings, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, etc., will find relief in Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Balm, two of the most valuable, reliable, scientific, curative medicines known for the treatment of sick women. They are sold at all drug stores, and should be in every home. Try them.

That West Point Site.

Representative D. H. Smith has revived the project of an army camp or maneuvers at West Point, Ky., by introducing in the House a bill appropriating $1,000,000 to buy a reservation, not exceeding 40,000 acres, in Hardin, Meade and Bullitt counties, in any one or two of them, as may seem desirable. The only stipulation regarding locations is that the land shall be adjacent to West Point. There is very little prospect for the passage of Mr. Smith's bill, but Congressman Zenge will join him in arguing it before Congress.

The War Department cannot be depended upon to give the bill support of any value. The policy of the department is not so strongly in favor of buying land for big camps of instruction as it formerly was. It has been found that land can be exactly rented for the small sum of 5 cents an acre for a season.

Old Land Mark Town Away.

The last of the old houses which were used here fifty years ago by the Breckenridge (Cannel) coal company has been torn away. The house, which was built of brick in the shape of a rectangle was situated near the railroad shops. It had been occupied in later years by negro families and was crumbling away so fast that it had to be dismantled. With the passing of this building goes one of Governor's monuments of the golden days that are no more.

Which is it?

At one end of our local backsmith shop hangs a sign which reads: "Drs. Taylor & Keene, Owensboro, Ky."

The question in the mind of the casual observer is: "Does that mean that the doctors' office is in the backsmith shop or is it only an advertisement?"

The meaning of the sign as it reads is that the office is in the shop for there is nothing on it to leave any other impression except that the office is inside the backsmith shop.

"Puppy" Love Back Again.

"Puppy" love has again broken into the ranks of our school boys and girls on the Hill. Whether this is at revision of the kind that permeated this body in the days of Prof. Maple or not is hard to say. But for lack of a better name it is termed "puppy" love. Since a power has this unspeakable, unseemly little visitor come to be that the professors have been compelled to make stringent rules to govern the pupils of the third room which is the seat of knowledge where the common-school branches are ended. One rule in particular that has recently been enforced is that the girls cannot "stand" in the hallway but they are smothered by their seniors. The professors find this "puppy" love to be a great bother. Often times when they require written work from their scholars they have handed into them through mistake sheets of paper covered with the best attempts of some boy artist and had under it the following: "This is my girl, and she's sweet. Oh! I love her." In a corner will be: "Dare this up, quick, when you read it. Don't let 'em see it!"

Proposition to Tight Town.

A proposition has been made the city council to light the streets of Cloverport at a cost of $100 per month, giving 16 clover lights and 14 arc lights.

Changed to Semi-weekly.

The Elizabethtown News has changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly, being now issued on Tuesday and Friday instead of once weekly as heretofore.

A Tough West Story.

Of the food served to the sailors in the British navy of 100 years ago a recent historian says: "A ship's company had to start a cruise upon the old most returned from various ships and routed out from the obscene odors of the victualing yards. Treason by it had been several years in the future it came to the cook by which time it needed rather a machine than a cook to make it edible. It was of a strong, hard, dense, sticky, glutinous, dark, gritty and glistening with oil crystals. Strange tales were told about it. Old painted women would tell of how they found in the most costly of curious bakings and neighborly beefs in the slaughter houses and of a crew who disappeared near the victual yard, to be seen no more. The sailor's belief, that the sailors could carve fancy articles, such as boxes, out of either meat."

Horses and Medicine.

Healthiness requires no medicine, but there are so many intestinal parasites and so many kinds of worms that affect horses that constant supervision pays. Almost all young horses are better for a few feeds of sulphur in the springtime. Many horsemen like to give a little worm medicine, and each man has his favorite. A good many worm medicines are harmless, and if administered to a healthy colt will do no harm. Usually a horse owner knows whether worm remedies are necessary or not, but in case of doubt it is a little safer to give the medicine, provided the medicine is really good. Some medicines are harmless and some are not. Stimulants are not necessary, and stimulating medicines should never be given except on the advice of a veterinarian.—St. Louis Republic.

Gladstone's Speech For Irving.

Gladstone was a great admirer of Sir Henry Irving, and this admiration was shown one day in the house of commons. Irving was under the gallery in the house when Gladstone was speaking. Gladstone leaped to his feet and delivered an impassioned speech, set off with all the expression and dramatic gesture for which he was so famous. The house seemed surprised. Members looked at one another and murmured, "What is the old man now up to?" They thought it was a deep political game. But a week or two later a friend of Irving's, encountering Mr. Gladstone, mentioned the story which the house and Gladstone eagerly inquired: "What did he think of my speech?" I made it for him."

Nelhor's Preliminary Trial.

A preliminary trial of J. R. Nelhor, who owns a saloon in Elizabethtown, Ky., charged with shooting and killing Bill Tavi-r Hobbs and wounding Thomas Chenault on Saturday before Christmas, the evidence showed that Hobbs and Chenault came into Nelhor's saloon drunk and were making a great deal of noise, when he asked them to keep quiet. This gave offense to them and Hobbs started to fight. Nelhor then drew his pistol and fired it over Hobbs's head, thinking that that would deter him from further advancing, but Hobbs kept coming towards him and seeing that his life was in peril, he fired. Hobbs fell to the floor with a bullet wound near his heart. He died almost instantly.

Chenault about that time threw a brick bat at Nelhor, who turned and fired at Chenault and wounded him in the arm. Chenault was taken

Registration Names Paynter on Ballot—Blackburn Defeated Life to War on Machine.

TU AND SHELLMAN VOTE FOR PAYNTER.

TAK. elected with 59 votes, defeated with 34 votes. Miss a side-issue with 10 votes, is part of it of the caucus at Frankfort today, a week ago. Barry McChesney, Eli Brown and El. Fennell elected prison commissioners. In the interest and at times much excellent denominated the caucus. Campbell made an eloquent oration nominating Senator Blackburn. Will A. Young nominated Paynter with a neat speech in which he praised his political record. Blackburn was nominated by Thomas Drewery. Blackburn after he had been defeated walked slowly to the speakers' stand with a cane in his trouser's pocket and right hand at ease and with a style of oratory that is now almost extinct dedicated his life to the war which had begun "to save the State to the Democratic party and went forward from the oligarchy which now rules it."

Senator R. W. Owen and representative Ed. Shellman cast their ballots for Paynter. Thomas H. Paynter was born in Lewis county December 19, 1851, and is now in his fifty-fifth year. He has been for some years a member of the Court of Appeals. His early education was acquired in the Lewis county public schools, which was supplemented by study in the Rand Academy and later by a course at Center College at Danville. After leaving old Center he became a study of his profession. His preparation for the bar was thorough and accurate, and his success in the practice of his profession was marked and immediate. He was admitted to the bar in 1873 and opened his first office in Greensburg, where he soon built up a large practice. He lived in Greensburg until elected to the Court of Appeals. In 1876 he was appointed County Attorney and served until 1878, when he was elected to the same office, which he held until 1882. He was a member of the Fifty-first Congress and twice re-elected, serving from 1889 until 1895. In 1894 Judge Paynter was elected to the Appellate Court and re-elected in 1900. State Senator Willard H. Cox, of Maysville, was unanimously nominated by the joint Republican caucus in Frankfort Wednesday night, last, for the United States Senator to oppose Judge T. Paynter.

The Grip

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip unless he has had the actual experience. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The Spirit of Winter.

The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways—sometimes by obnoxious and glistening snows, and sometimes by driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twists harder, twinges sharper, catarrh becomes more annoying, and the many symptoms of scrofula are developed and aggravated. There is not much poetry in this, but there is truth, and it is a wonder that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that once them—Hood's Sarsaparilla—is easily obtained and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.
